Reviews

A really great publication with lucid and perfect reasons. I have read through and i am confident that i am going to gonna read yet again yet again down the road. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

THE BROWN ALUMNI MONTHLY, VOL. 6: NOVEMBER, 1905 (CLASSIC REPRINT) (PAPERBACK)DOWNLOAD

Forgotten Books, United States, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Brown Alumni Monthly, Vol. 6: November, 1905 On the second floor the hall is made bright with three large paintings, two of them the gift of the classes of 1897 and 1899. At the south end of the hall is a large plaster cast of the Winged Victory. A bookstore, conducted by a student, opens out from the hall at the south, and on the east are the reading room and library. Recitation rooms occupy the rest of the floor at the west of the hall. The Women's College library has come to be one of the most attractive and useful rooms in the university. Its dimensions are thirty by twenty-six feet. There is a large fireplace in one corner, not seen in the accompanying views, which gives to the library a comfortable and graceful appearance. The furnishings consist of study tables and chairs of dark oak. The shelves are fast filling with the books needed by students in pursuing their different courses and the more important books for general reading. At present the number of volumes in the library is 2017, including a set of 168 volumes of the British poets, and handsome series of Scott and Shakespeare, the latter two the gift of the late Asa Messer Gammell. Many of the books in the early days of the library were the gift of Miss Emma Harris, while others, forming part of the late Professor W. S. Liscomb's library, were presented by Mrs. Liscomb. Above the shelves is a plaster frieze with figures representing the arts, sciences and crafts. This imparts a quiet dignity to the room. About the Publisher Forgotten...
